Join the 30 for 30 Challenge

Thank you for joining us in celebrating 30 years of the Office of International Affairs at IUPUI!

Studying abroad or majoring in International Studies isn't always an option for IUPUI students. That's where the International House (I-House) comes in.

I-House has brought international and American students together in residential intercultural learning since 1991. Each year, residents from nearly 20 countries participate in global dialogues, build cross-cultural skills and friendships, and participate in service projects together.

This spring, to commemorate our 30th Anniversary, we're challenging 30 donors to give $30 or more to support student success at I-House.

With your help, we can meet our general needs as well as deepen and broaden I-House's impact at IUPUI—and beyond—by:

- Continuing funding for a Global Scholars program, which will support promising I-House residents — both from the U.S. and abroad — to stay for a second year and lead intercultural activities for residents and for the campus
- Growing I-House programming, including the expansion of a global alumni speaker series
- Creating more local alumni with a global outlook — and more international alumni with strong ties to Indianapolis
